

Blue arrow = transition
Red arrow = cut

1.

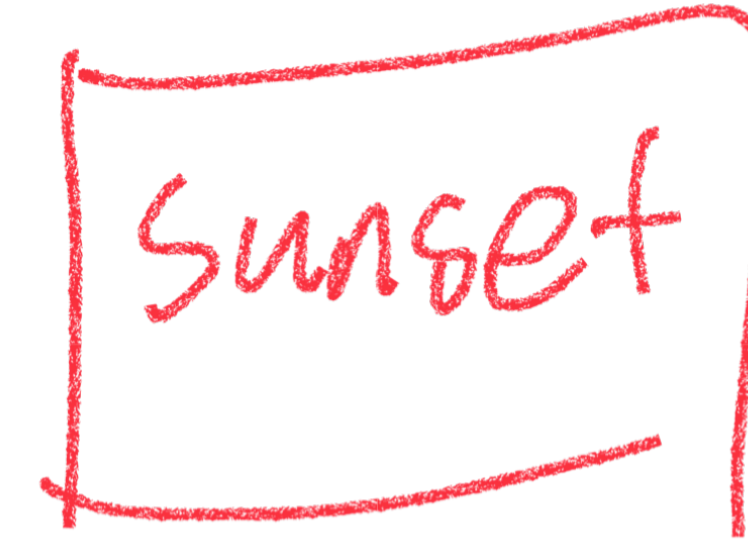

maybe add black bars for enhanced cinematic effect

2.

3.

I'll have to visit the lake during golden hour, weather permitting

I can create a transition using my own legs as they are too close to the camera and thus out of focus might feel more real if I'm in the shot somehow using video recorded during Enlighten Canberra as there are already existing pictures of the event on the website and it would tie together the theme nicely

when I refer to an "escape transition" I'll try and use my phone camera in a way that looks like it's escaping from the other camera's Point Of View something a little softer to slow down the video and conclude